Special Educational Needs and Disability Information Report 2023 - 2024

Staff member responsible	Mrs. T Rainford
Governor/Other	Mrs. S Bayton
Date of Policy	November 2023
Reviewed	Annually

All Chester and Cheshire West Local Authority (LA) maintained schools have a similar approach to meeting the needs of pupils with Special Educational Needs and are supported by the LA to ensure that all pupils, regardless of their specific needs, make the best possible progress in school.

All schools are supported to be as inclusive as possible, with the needs of pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) being met in a mainstream setting wherever possible. The four broad 'areas of need' are Communication and Interaction, Cognition and Learning, Social, Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties and Sensory and Physical Needs. At different times in their school life, a child or young person may have a special educational need.

The Code of Practice 2014 defines SEND as follows:

"A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special education provision to be made for him or her. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- a) has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others the same age, or
- b) has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

Where a pupil's progress is significantly slower than that of their peers, or fails to match their previous rate of progress, despite high quality teaching targeted at specific areas of difficulty, it may be that the child has SEND."

Information will be gathered, including seeking the views of parents and the pupil, as well as from teachers and assessments.

There can be many reasons for learners 'falling behind'. These may include absences, attending lots of different schools, difficulties with speaking English, or worries that distract them from learning. Our school understands that children who experience these barriers to learning are vulnerable. This does not mean that all vulnerable learners have SEND. Only those with a learning difficulty that requires special educational provision will be identified as having SEND.

What is the Local Offer?

The LA Local Offer

- The Children and Families Bill became enacted in September 2014. From this date, Local Authorities and schools are required to publish and keep under review information about services they expect to be available for the children and young people with Special Educational Needs (SEND) aged 0-25. This is the 'Local Offer'.
- The intention of the Local Offer is to improve choice and transparency for families. It will also be an important resource for parents in understanding the range of services and provision in the local area.

Arrangements for consulting young people with SEND and involving them in their education	All children, regardless of SEND, are aware of their personal targets and next steps. Children who have additional needs have targets which are shared, discussed and worked towards with members of staff who are providing additional support. Children are also invited to progress meetings and encouraged to express their comments prior to a review, where appropriate. Not all children wish to attend and their points of view are discussed with the teacher or TA prior to the meeting
The approach to teaching children and	Teachers have the highest possible expectations for

young people with SEND	your child and all pupils in their class. Teachers work closely with your child's previous teacher to ensure they are building on what your child already knows, can do and can understand. We ensure that different styles of teaching are in place, so that all children can be fully involved in learning in the classroom and any suggested strategies (which may be suggested by the SENCo or outside agencies) are also included in daily teaching. Teachers will also ensure they are meeting the needs of all pupils. SEND support children will have a Pupil Profile which identifies their short term and long term outcomes. Planning is highly differentiated and small intervention groups may be used when appropriate. Support may also be 1:1 and it may occur in the classroom or outside. It may be delivered by a teacher or a teaching assistant, or on occasions it may be necessary to employ a specialist teacher. Teachers ensure children with SEND have full access to the curriculum.
How adaptations are made to the curriculum and learning environment of children and young people with SEND How Guilden Sutton Community Primary School is accessible to children with SEND	The curriculum is adapted to meet the needs of individuals. Teaching is highly differentiated to ensure it is accessible to every member of the class. Personalised curriculums are used when needed to ensure skills are taught at the appropriate level and next steps are identified. Support staff, under the direction of the class teacher, can adapt planning to support the needs of your child where necessary. The expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEND, including how specialist expertise will be secured	Our school SENCo has the National SENDCo Award. This ensures all staff have an understanding of SEND. It is the SENCo's responsibility to support the class teacher in meeting the needs of children with SEND. The school provides training and support to enable all staff, including TAs, to improve the teaching and learning of children, including those with SEND. Whole staff training on SEND issues is provided by the SENCo and staff also attend courses run by the National College and outside agencies that are relevant to the needs of specific children in their class. On-going professional development is key to ensuring all staff remain updated and skilled.
Evaluating the Effectiveness of the provision made for children and Young people with SEND.	At Guilden Sutton Church of England Primary school we measure children's progress in learning against National expectations and age related expectations. Starting points are taken into consideration and we acknowledge that although attainment may be below age expectation, a child, particularly with SEND, can still make good progress. Children who have personalized curriculums have progress assessed in a different way to ensure that small steps of learning are recognised. Your child's progress will be continually monitored by his or her class teacher. Your child's progress will be reviewed formally with the Headteacher, Deputy Headteacher and SENCo at pupil progress meetings.
How children and young people with SEND engage in activities available with children and young people who do not have special educational needs	We are a fully inclusive school and children will be educated alongside their peers, following the National Curriculum, wherever this is appropriate. Planning and teaching is highly differentiated so tasks are suitable for a wide range of learners. Teaching Assistants also support children in the classroom. Enrichment activities are available for all children.

These needs may manifest themselves in a number of ways, including behavioural difficulties, anxiousness and being uncommunicative. We have two trained, Emotional Literacy Support Assistant (ELSA), who work with individuals and groups of children four afternoons a week, but are also on hand throughout the school day. The emotional health and well-being of our pupils is very important to us and for those children who find aspects of this difficult we offer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Playtime and lunchtime support through planned activities and groups • A robust safeguarding policy in place, following national guidelines • We are an anti-bullying school • Buddy System • Collaboration with staff to support pupils with emotional and medical needs • If your child still needs extra support, with your permission the SENCo will access further support through the Team Around the Family (TAF) process. • The Headteacher or SENCO will refer to CAHMS when appropriate • The Headteacher and all staff continually monitor the emotional health and well-being of all our pupils • Where there are long-lasting difficulties the school will consider whether a child might have SEND
How the School involve other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEND and supporting families.	The SENCO will make referrals or contact outside agencies using the local authorities recommended pathways.
